

Scholarships in Business in Leadership cohort: Students selected for these scholarships will be pursuing careers in business related fields. The Business Students in Leadership cohort will engage with faculty from the College of Business to explore contemporary issues minorities face related to bias and leadership development. The cohort will focus on project management for all participating cohorts of the Clayton State University Coca Cola Scholarship Program, identifying goals and working with the unique circumstances and participants of each cohort to ensure that desired outcomes are being met and tracked. For more information contact Stacey Reynolds, Staceyreynolds@clayton.edu
